Suicide in Hardwick.

or be implicated in Mr. Dutton's busi-

Young Stewart was a friend of Mr. Dutton's and the latter had much influence over him, consequently Dutton's tragic death bore heavily upon him. On Saturday he heard of the suicide of Roena Clark at Lyndonville and that seemed to have a depressing effect on him, he talking considerable about it to a friend who was with him on Sunday. The revolver was Stewart's but is the one Dutton took when he shot himself.

Young Stewart was 23 years old, unmarried and lived with his parents, Charles C. Stewart and wife. Besides his parents he is survived by a brother, John Stewart and a sister, Mrs. Jessie Ross, He was a member of the Junior Order of American Mechanics and a graduate of the local high school.

The funeral is to be held this afternoon.

Teamster Killed in Hardwick.

Fred Corliss, who drove a freight team between Hardwick and Craftsbury, was the accident, and it was not until another team came along and again ran over the body that the discovery was made. Corliss' wagon carried about 7,000 pounds weight. It is thought that the driver was a sleep and fell under the wheels. He resided in Craftsbury and was 47 years of age. He leaves a wife in that town.

Laurels Forfeit Again.

For the second time since the opening ed a match last Thurday night. The Independents were the gainers by the move to the extent of three straight games and the added 1877 to their total pinfall. On Monday night No. 6 took two out of three from the Elites, the pinfall being 2000 to 1683. The high rollers for the week were the Somerset five, who on Tuesday night bowled over 2143 to Centrals 2050, winning the match two out of three. In the standing giving below the figures are revised to Saturday night before each issue and the individual averages are the six best for any one match played during the Universalist Sale.

The annual sale of the Ladies' Circle of the Church of the Messiah on Thursday and Friday, afternoon and evening, was a success in every way. On Thursday the ladies served one of their famous clam chowder suppers to a large number of people and on Friday evening, Rev. E. A. Hoyt of Hyannis, Mass., a former pastor lectured on "Simple Simon's Philosophy." It was a great pleasure to Mr. Hoyt's old parishioners to listen to him again and his lecture was bright and practical.

The booths presented a pretty appearance and were covered with the finest specimens of cooking and needlework The fancy work table was in charge of Miss Alice Wakefield, and Mrs. E. A. Hart; the candy of Misses Ouida Johnson, Caddie Hamblett and Vera Montgomery; the handkerchief table of Mrs. Charles French; aprons, Mrs. W. M. Hovey and Mrs. Charles Moffet; cooked ood and preserves, Mrs. Winfield Hastings and Mrs. W. A. Astle; palm reading and mystery booth, Miss Freda Gilfillan.

WE TELL IT JUST AS IT IS WHEN WE SAY THE

MILLOUGHBY

Hard Wood Flooring is the best on the market. Why? Reason it out for yourself. Our machinery is the very latest, upto-date that is made. We employ the best skilled labor we can find, who have had years of experience. Our superintendent is a pioneer in the hardwood flooring business. Has made it a life study and his aim has always been to make the best. We are safe within our rights when we say that the "Willoughby" brand of Birch, Beech and Maple flooring is the best dried, best milled, from the best stock and nearer a perfect flooring than anything on the market. The only reason it can be sold for nearly as low a price as ordinary flooring is the fact that we own our stumpage and saw our lumber expressly for this brand.

The time saved in laying this class of stock brings it down nearly as cheap as ordinary flooring. Architects and builders who have tried it recognize no other.

NINETY YEARS YOUNG.

Mrs. Laurette Bingham is Today Observing the Ninetieth Milestone in a Long and Useful Life.

Today is the ninetieth birthday of Mrs. Laurette Bingham and her many friends are congratulating her on having reachvil cases, 29 divorce cases, 59 state ed this advanced age. No special observance of the day will be made as she entertained the Seventy Club and a few particular triends last summer, following the custom of the club to celebrate the winter birthdays in warm weather. Laurette Knight, daughter of Joseph | lanuary, E. T. & H. K. Ide vs. Boston and Azubah (Taylor) Knight, was born in West Waterford, November 24, 1819. She was the sixth child in a family of at his home in Hardwick. nine, six boys and three girls, of whom Sleeper, Newark; Byron she is the last, a sister, Mrs. Merrill J. Hazelton of Illinois, having died a year ago. When eleven years old the family moved to Irasburg and at eleven and a half Mrs. Bingham became a member of the Congregational church. She was a faithful attendant at church service often going on horseback with her little sister on the saddle behind her. In 1835 she was married to Daniel L. Jackson and lived at Passumpsic and in Danvers, Mass., until Mr. Jackson's death from Miss Carrie B. Sargent is spending the typhoid fever in 1839. They had one son, William Jackson, who served as hospital steward with the Third Vermout regiment during the Civil war and was killed in a steamboat accident after

In 1845 she married John Calvin Bingham and has since made her home in St. Johnsbury. Mr. Bingham was a druggist and bought the drug business of old Dr. Jewett, investing only $300 in the same. At that time the nearest drug store was in Montpelier. The drug store was passed from father to son so that the name Bingham has meant druggist to St. Johnsbury ears for 64 years. Mr. and Mrs. Bingham had two sons, Henry, who was for a time in the firm with his brother and died in 1873. and Charles C., who is still in the drug business. Three years after their mar riage Mr. and Mrs. Bingham built the house on Church street, which is now Mrs. Bingham's home. On January 10, 1841, Mrs. Bingham united with the North church by letter and until her illness a year ago was a faithful attendant, being in her seat every Sunday. She is the oldest member of the church in length of membership but not of years, Mrs. Clarissa G. Proctor being three years older. When the Seventy club was organized in 1891 she was made vice president and since the death of the first president, Mrs. I. B. Gorham, she has held that office. She has always enjoyed good health and these sunset years of a ong lite of usefulness are rarely inspiring. She has one granddaughter, Miss Katherine Bingham, the well known
